Amazing espresso machine!

I'm in love with this espresso machine! This is my first espresso machine & it definitely set the bar high! It looks amazing in my kitchen & makes the best drinks! Since I never used an espresso machine, I'm glad this one was a breeze to use. The instructions were informative & definitely helped me along the way. I love how it has its own burr grinder attached to it. It was easy to clean as well. I've made espresso shots as well as cappuccinos & can't wait to make many more drinks. If you love coffee like myself, get this machine! It is well worth it!

Incredible quality and easy to use!

I am in loveeee with this espresso machine! I've never had an espresso machine before and this is so easy to use once you try it out a few times. There is built in storage for the 4 different basket types in the tray. The tray also will tell you when the water is full and needs to be dumped, which I love. You don't need to buy a separate distributor tool after the espresso is ground because the machine does it for you! The bean hopper fits a full 12 oz/340 gram bag of beans. On top of the machine, next to the bean hopper, is a warmer that you can set your coffee on. The water tank is pretty large and I love that it has a filter in it. The milk frothed is fantastic and I love that I can just pour out hot water too if I want. The machine also comes with a very detailed handbook and a recipe booklet. Honestly, I don't have anything negative to say about this machine. It's a little expensive, but absolutely worth the price tag. It's very similar to the breville machine for comparison! I love kitchen aid products though, and love that they made this machine.

This appliance is incredible, it offers an attached grinder to give the ultimate freshest espresso possible. The build quality is durable and really beautifully built. Cleaning this is a breeze, a nice wipe down and you're good to do. The pricing is competitive with other brands and all around a steal of a deal when compared to what's on the market. This is a must buy for any espresso lover like myself! Absolutely gorgeous machinery to make my mornings a breeze

Barista experience at home!

This is my first proper espresso machine and, aside from my own trial and error when it comes to navigating that experience and learning how to pull shots of espresso, I found this machine to be overall fairly intuitive and able to deliver a great coffee shop level espresso at home! I was surprised at how quiet it is and how easily milk foams/steams up. I have made both cappuccinos and lattes and have loved them. I don't think I need to go to coffee shops anymore!

Kitchen staple!

Using this has been a learning experience! I would say using an expression maker while just normally using a coffee maker is definitely for more experienced coffee makers! Once I learned how to use it, it was really easy to use. I am still learning all the tips and tricks of how to make the best expression and it also has a grinder that is attached. I love the stainless steel it matches everything in my kitchen. If you rather save your money than going to Starbucks I would say get one of these, it's definitely a nice little addition to your kitchen.

This thing is amazing! Very heavy duty and high quality. The directions are easy to read and the added recipe book was a bonus. Cleaning is a breeze and I love that it holds a lot of water so I don't have to refill it all the time. Can't wait to continue making great morning drinks with this!

Who needs a coffee shop when you own a kitchen aid espresso machine !!

"I received these products for free from Influenster and brand(s) in exchange for my honest review." Kitchen aid semi automatic espresso machine with burr grinder has changed my daily life for the better ,, recently purchased a new home and was elated to know that I have been chosen to receive this product for me to try , after using this product for a couple of weeks and after making multiple drinks before reviewing and giving my honest opinion. who would of known there's tons of ways to make drinks using espresso !!! From espresso shots , to espresso martinis you'll have a blast learning new drinks and polish your techniques , what I love this machine is the sleek stainless steel design , the controls are easy to use , the burr grinder addition is a big plus since you can use your own coffee beans and grind them on the spot , heck , can't get any fresher then that !! The milk frother is easy to use , you just gotta master the amount of time , angle and hand technique to get that perfect froth , The portafilter is detachable and comes with a handle attached on top which you can be use to pull the container out to clean it or refill water. The water dispenser tray slides with ease to make it easy to clean once you're done using it . I do recommend buying some extra accessories like espresso glass or ceramic cups , cappuccino mugs , saucers , spoons specially design for espresso/ cappuccino use. If you're comfortable using ground coffee instead of coffee beans just make sure you get ground coffee made specially for espresso machines . Overall I highly recommend this product , the fun you'll have , the money you'll save daily , and all those new drinks you get to try daily ,, awesome !!! The compliments you get from friends and family after making them a cappuccino on the spot makes it all worthwhile .

I'd give it 100 stars if I could. This feels like a professional set up. I have my own coffee shop in my home now! It does have a bit of a learning curve if you aren't used to anything beyond coffee pods. But it comes with instructions and a great recipe book.

We absolutely love everything about this espresso machine. The grinder has been fun to test out different grind sizes and provides great quality grinds no matter the size we select. It brews quickly and has been easy to operate once we got the hang of it. The flexibility of this machine has allowed us to experiment with different tastes and consistency of our coffee. 100% recommend this espresso machine.

I love Kitchenaid products in general and was excited to try this new coffee machine! Yes, it's not cheap but the quality is great. I like that it has built-in grinder so I have freshly grounded coffee beans right away. Coffee tastes great! Settings buttons are easy to navigate. Cleaning isn't that hard either.

Coffee House Quality in My House

10 days ago

I received this Semi Automatic Espresso Machine with Burr Grinder about a month ago. The instructions booklet could use some work. I had trouble finding the tray with some of the parts and the directions didn't always show the next step clearly. In spite of this and with zero experience with espresso machines, I figured out how to grind the beans, brew the espresso, and steam the milk. I'm still working on the settings for the ultimate espresso but the results so far have been great. I've tried several of the recipes in the booklet and a few from internet searches with great results. It's time to invite friends over for coffee and pastries. As any espresso machine would, this one makes noise during its various processes, so be warned if you're making morning coffee and have light sleepers. I think this a great start for a first espresso machine.

Top of the line machine for beginner espresso users

Wow! Absolutely amazing! From looks to function to cleaning! So simple to use as a first time espresso machine user which is shocking. You can tweak everything to your own specific desire which makes the experience even better. All the gadgets it comes with as well are top of the line and pretty heavy which is amazing to feel the build quality of it. Grinder is marvellous and i found it pretty neat that when it does start to grind a little light tuns on so you can see what's happening!

16. Amazing coffee with a little practice

This is my first experience using an espresso machine. The machine seems well-built. The brewing quality gets better the more I use it & adjust the settings. It's relatively easy to clean. I have been a bit confused about some of the instructions or lack thereof, so I had to do a little research. At first, I thought I was missing parts. They were in a tray behind the drip tray, but I didn't see any reference in the booklets. I could see the tray but didn't know how to get it out. Clarification in the docs would be helpful. The price seems expensive, but using this regularly instead of buying from coffee shops may end up costing less in the end. The flavor, quality, and customization of drinks at home can't be beat by any other coffee maker I've owned. I look at my old coffee maker and wonder who would want it.

Next best thing when it comes to home espresso machine

oilyskinguru

I received the espresso machine as a complimentary from Influenster in exchange for a product review. The built-in burr grinder can grind coffee beans that provide an equal distribution of particle sizing at your chosen grind size. The espresso machine has a sturdy, sleek design that is aesthetically pleasing to the eyes. The brew quality is so good because I can pull a 9-15 bar espresso that has a thick crema output. It is also easy and hassle free to clean. It is worth every penny. A value for money.

Great espresso machine and easy to use!

nikitaj51af

The KitchenAid Semi-Automatic Espresso with Burr Grinder exceeded by expectations. It wasn't difficult to use and the noise level wasn't extremely loud. I was given the option to choose my basket type from both single wall or double wall. I chose the double wall setting and used Harry & David Vanilla Crème Brûlée ground coffee. The temperature settings were a plus. I was allowed to choose from three different settings (Low, Medium and High). It was very easy to clean. Lastly, included with this espresso machine was a recipe book. I have already experimented with so many recipes. I made an Americano my, Macchiato, and the Espresso Martini. They were quite delicious. I will be continuing to experiment using other recipes. This is by far the best espresso machine I have ever used. I would highly recommend this product to all looking to make a great espresso.

Let your bean dreams come true

I was really excited to get this machine and start using it. I have been searching for an espresso machine already, so the timing for receiving this was perfect. My initial impressions were that it's very high quality and looks nice, a compact but robust size that fits snugly under a cabinet. There was an issue with the water filter plastic encasing, unfortunately the top part of it broke and then when I opened the bottom to add a filter, one of the plastic latching pieces broke off as well, so now it doesn't properly shut all the way. It still somewhat works, and since I use filtered water anyway I'm not too worried, just thought it was worth mentioning. I did want to take my time getting familiar with the parts and set up, so I do have one critique here that the instructions and website (linked via QR code) did lack some clarity especially when it came to priming the pump, and then also running the clean cycle. I'm still not clear on the difference between the two, I just know that water comes out of different nozzles for the cleaning cycle - so be prepared with extra cups for that (it shoots out if the steam wand last). It would have been helpful to know how many rounds to expect to go through these cycles before the machine would be ready to brew espresso, I eventually got there but the whole time I felt like I was doing something wrong. Definitely a learning curve! The last issue I had was that the water leaks from the tank in the bottom tray where the extra filters and cleaning brush live (photo attached) I clean it every time, but this happens even after its been unused for hours. But the reason for my five stars is because once everything is said and done, this thing works like a champ! The burr grinder is exceptionally good, the beans are ground with ease and its not loud at all. The texture comes out perfect depending on the setting. The actual brewing function works great, I was able to pull robust frothy shots on my first go. Delicious! I do wish the steam wand was longer, but it gets the job done. I'm excited to continue trying new combinations with the different filters and techniques for grinding the beans to create my perfect cup. I do think there are just a few small things that could use improving that I only mention because of the price point, but overall it's a very high quality machine for the amateur coffee aficionado.

23. Be your own barista

20 days ago

This espresso machine by KitchenAid is foolproof. We had a previous machine that made OK drinks but was really hard to use and clean. This one grinds beans fresh, steams milk easily and makes a very, very good latte. The only real downside is that the steamer is incredibly loud. Overall, this quickly became part of our daily routine and I prefer our lattes to many chain coffee shops.

MY DREAM ESPRESSO MACHINE

21 days ago

I've had this semi-automatic espresso machine for about a month now. It comes with a burr grinder, a hot water spout, AND a steam wand. It also comes with a porta filter, 4 filter baskets, a commercial-grade tamper, and a stainless steal milk pitcher. The water tank is XL (2.5L), and comes with a handle for easy removal/carrying to the sink for refills. Similarly, the bean hopper is easy to remove to refill with fresh beans. It is clear that this machine was designed for easy cleaning and maintainance. It is a good-performing machine. Water temperature can be adjusted to 3 different settings, as well as 2 settings for volume. Grind size can be adjusted from coarse to fine, depending on your preference. At first, I was nervous to trust the smart-dosing technology and I would always intervene and manually stop the grinder, but it works! So just trust that the machine will stop grinding when it needs to. Now, the pressure gauge was difficult to please at first as I found myself in the under extraction range over and over. I'm not sure if this is due to my lack of knowledge in espresso-making. But I just make sure to play around with the machine until I hit the "sweet spot" and leave the settings as they are. Overall, this machine makes great-tasting coffee. The semi-automatic settings are great for coffee aficionados (and for those who want to learn more about it.) KitchenAid is an amazing brand and I'm sure that with proper care, I'll keep this machine for many years. Buy your favorite espresso beans, make sure to play around with the grind size and the dosage, and your coffee will taste amazing!

25. Great Cuppa Joe

So long, Starbucks! I can now make a better cup of coffee at home for a fraction of the price. I'm able to customize it the way I like it every time. It took a bit of time to assemble and figure out how to use, but the learning curve is worth it. The attention to detail takes this product to the next level. It feels high quality and heavy duty. Both the tamper and the portafilter handle are sturdy and well built. The hopper for coffee beans is handy and a great addition. I like that you can dial in the perfect amount of fresh ground coffee depending on your taste and espresso needs. If lattes are your thing, this is the product for you.

26 days ago

I was gifted this machine in exchange for my honest review. First, the set up directions for this espresso maker left quite a bit to be desired. I struggled on which buttons did what, which parts were what, and how to put it all together. Since setting it up, it has made really great coffee! It pulls smooth shots with a beautiful crema (I'm not an espresso aficionado or barista, but it does the job for me!) I choose it over the coffee shop, drip coffee, or even my nespresso machine every day. The grinder does a great job and the hot water is a nice feature to make americanos and even tea, as it heats up very quickly. I've had trouble with the steaming wand (I can't seem to get a good foam on the milk no matter how hard I try, but that could just be user error, as I'm still learning how to use it (it does get the milk nice and hot!)) Overall, speaking as someone who is a novice and beginner when it comes to espresso, this machine is great. It makes delicious coffees and doesn't take up too much space on the counter!

Beyond impressed!

I was generously gifted this espresso machine from Kitchenaid and Influenster in exchange for my honest review, and I have to say, this is my favorite reviewed product EVER! For a little info, I am not an espresso connoisseur or a coffee snob, I'm just a girl who loves her morning coffee and her Starbucks run. I've never had an at home espresso machine, but I've always wanted one, so this was an amazing surprise and it has MORE than lived up to my expectations! Being a beginner, I want to point out just how easy it was to get started with this machine. Out of the box, it comes with a quick-start guide and all of the accessories you might need to make espresso including 4 filter baskets (single & double shot baskets in both single and double walled variants) all stored in a hidden compartment in the machine, a double spout portafilter, a stainless milk frothing pitcher, a coffee tamper, etc. On the machine, there is a huge filtered water tank, a hot water dispenser, a milk frothing wand and a very nice burr grinder with bean hopper. It also includes a fun recipe book with tons of ideas for putting your espresso shots to use! The instructions are incredibly easy to follow, and after some initial setup procedures to purge lines and get the machine ready to use, we were ready to brew our first shots! Using the grinder is easy as it will dispense an exact amount of coffee into your portafilter with the push of a button once you have the setting right. It does take a bit of trial and error to find the setting you want, but once you've found it, it will grind the same amount of coffee day after day making your espresso shots consistent, quick and easy. After that, it's just choose your espresso options and pushing a button for an awesome crema topped shot! I am someone who LOVES an iced mocha from Starbucks and after chasing the perfect knock off at home for years with disappointment, I can say confidently, I've found it! While I don't have the experience to say how this machine stacks up to its competitors, I can say that the results speak for themselves and I'm very happy with the ease of use and taste of the finished product. It's the closest I've gotten to Starbucks at home and I am in love!

INFLUENCER 🙌 KEEPS 🙌 SURPRISING 🙌 ME! I received this KitchenAid Espresso Maker as part of a VoxBox Campaign and I swear my life is so different with this in it 😭😭 This machine is QuietMark certified meaning it's sooooo quiet in the mornings unlike most espresso machines that would wake my whole house up at 6AM. There's a warming pad on top of the machine that keeps my cup warm while my beans are grinding. Also paired with a steamer and hot water spout, this KitchenAid Espresso Machine is one-of-a-kind and so far the best part of my 2024!

This is awesome! This thing brews coffee better than Starbucks Coffee. Putting it together was very quick and easy. Cleaning was also easy. I believe this product is worth the money. Especially if you're the person that likes to stop at Starbucks or a Coffee house in the morning. This machine will basically pay for itself.

What a great product to get to try out and review! It came nicely boxed, when putting it together (the water filter needed to be added) we found the added accessories in the drawer below the machine. I'm impressed with how solid this machine is. Love how easy it is to use once we figure out how to use it. We would have loved a bit more instructions or a tutorial but we in the end figured it out. I'm no barista but my first Americano turned out pretty good. It definitely will take trial and error. We would have liked a bit of clarity on grind size, which filter basket is best for what, the temp settings, etc. but overall I'd definitely recommend.

This product is fantastic. Every element of it works amazing. Everything is easy to use and learning time as someone who has never made espresso was very easy. The grinder does a great job grinding the beans and the milk frother is amazing as well. The machine works great grinding beans or using pre-ground. I really love this product and it has really elevated my coffee experience everyday. Also the parts are all easy to clean and I really like how big the water tank is.

This is a pretty nice machine, I have to say. I have only used one other off brand machine before and for the most part it's similar but there are some key improvements on this one. First of all, it doesn't seem to take as long to heat up the steam arm. It comes with some nice accessories to make your drinks, like a milk steam cup and different sizes of the portafilter. It's pretty heavy and feels like a solidly built machine. The grinder works great and the espresso comes out great, and the steamer works perfectly well. It also dispenses plain hot water from a separate spout in case you want some tea or something. Oh and there's a nice little storage compartment hidden in the bottom for some of the accessories. That's pretty neat. Plus it was pretty easy to set up, I had some issues because I didn't read the instructions, lol. But quick tip for y'all who are like me and don't want to read the instructions, it is super basic to set up and mostly self explanatory but there's a little red rubber thing in the water tank that needs removed before you start brewing.

I LOVE THIS ESPRESSO MACHINE! I've always been really intimidated by espresso machines because it looks hard to make. However, Kitchen Aid's Semi Automatic Espresso Machine made things so much easier! There's a guide with how to make sure you're grinding the beans properly (either fine or coarse) so that the espresso comes out smooth. There's also a guide with different types of drinks you can make. There's many cool features including the milk steamer, the stamp that packs the ground beans, the gauge which shows you if the espresso is going to come out at the right temperature, and much more. Honestly, since receiving this Espresso machine, I haven't bought any other coffee. It's quick & easy and one of the best machines I've ever had to review!

This espresso machine rules. It grinds the beans, dispenses them, makes the espresso, and steams the milk. It does everything and I love it more than any appliance in my house. It's pretty quiet when grinding which I really like. Has double or single shot espresso option. There's a pressure meter and a lever to adjust the coarseness of the beans. I love everything about it. I'll be using this thing for years.

Kitchen Staple for Coffee Drinkers

I received this item complimentary from Influenster in exchange for my honest opinion. I am true fan of Kitchen Aid kitchen products. I have had a classic stand-alone mixer, hand mixer, coffee maker and other kitchen gadgets and they all have lasted years. The quality is excellent for the price you pay. My hubby is a coffee addict as is my whole family and I can only indulge occasionally due to health reasons but we all take our coffee drinking very seriously. This machine has been a game changer for us. It was super easy to set up and came with instructions as well as recipes to test out. We were new to grinding our own coffee beans but this machine makes it easy and quick. Yes, it's a bit loud but it is not a big deal. The coffee beans are milled and our coffee tastes very fresh and tasty. I never knew having a good grinder and grinding your own coffee beans could make such an impact on the quality of your coffee! It's quick for clean up and doesn't have a lot of parts to clean up. I love the aesthetics and design. It's modern, simple and practical. It's a space saver as well. It would fit any decor with its silver color. I'm more than impressed and has become a staple in our kitchen. Looking forward to many years of use. Highly recommend.

I just received this Kitchen aid Semi Automatic Espresso Machine with Burr Grinder and absolutely love it. This comes with four baskets. Two single wall and two double walls. There is a storage tray to keep them in. Really like this feature. This has a built in bean grinder that is so convenient. Love having fresh ground coffee. The frothing is on the side of the machine. The espresso shot guide is a pressure range to give you the ideal espresso. I feel like I'm a barista in my own home. My espressos taste delicious. I'm now working on making a design with my milk. Comes with a cookbook to help you make the perfect drink.

This is a premium espresso machine and upgraded my kitchen. I love it has grinder included, so I don't need an extra grinder. It is my first time owning an espresso machine like this, so take me a bit time to learn how to use it. But overall is pretty easy to brew. Cleaning is easy and I really love how it looks too.

I absolutely love this espresso machine. It gives you so many setting adjustments to make your perfect espresso. It grinds the beans for you and measures out exactly how much you want for one or two shots. It allows you to choose the coarseness of the grind and adjust the temperature of the espresso brew. It also has a milk steamer/frother attachment that is super easy to use and works very well. I also love how it has an option to just get hot water from the machine. It heats up very quickly and is also easy to clean. I really look forward to making myself a yummy espresso drink every day! It comes with everything you need, including an easy to follow instruction manual and a recipe book. I do feel this machine is worth the price tag and it will pay for itself if you regularly buy drinks from coffee shops. I've had a cheaper espresso machine in the past and it does not compare to this one. I received this product in exchange for an honest review.

Professional grade machine with a learning curve and incredible results!

My husband and I enjoy several cups of coffee per day (living that WFH life) and, after spending time in Spain last year, have come to appreciate espresso over the watered down coffee-water of our Keurig. We had previously moved over to using a Nespresso, but were thrilled to have been gifted this espresso machine from Kitchenaid. We care so much more now about enjoying one good cup of coffee instead of several weaker ones. First off, this machine is a beast. It's so heavy and has quite a large footprint, so ensure you have the counter or cart space to accommodate that. It's quite solid and clearly very well built. The accessories are also durable and thoughtfully complementary to the machine. There's a hidden storage tray behind the drip tray that can be hard to find, but is quite clever and handy. The portafilter is heavy and feels good in your hand. There are four included filter baskets to suit all different grinds and sizes. What's truly impressive is the absolute customization you can use in your production process to create the perfect cup of coffee tailored to your needs. Changing the texture of the grind, setting the volume of the grounds, the temperature of the water, the crema, all of it is at your fingertips! The catch-22 is that, if you're like us, you might not have a background in the barista arts, so there's a sharp learning curve in interpreting the settings to obtain the ideal result. My husband and I devoted a few hours to watching instructional YouTube videos to learn the techniques and vocabulary to adjust the settings to our liking. We still have a ways to go, but we're enjoying the experience and trial and error of customizing the exact flavour/intensity. Some of my favourite features: this machine is quite fast! The water reservoir is gigantic, but designed in such a way that isn't bulky. The "deck" of the machine has under lighting so you can clearly see what you're doing while you're doing it. The milk frother/steam wand is fantastic and easy to learn! I've already made delicious lattes that far exceed the coffee we were producing before with the pod machines. Some of my concerns: my husband and I were very frustrated with the manual. One basic thing it was missing was a page simply listing out and showing the contents of the box, which is something almost every other electronic device we've used had come with. Better visual/image instructions would be helpful, especially for the initial setup and preparation process. We found it quite frustrating to interpret the terms without an image explaining what each button and item was. We did figure it out, but it took an unnecessarily long time to do so. This is not a simple machine, so if you're looking for something basic, this isn't it. But if you're willing to invest the time to learn, this machine will produce coffee shop-like results. Truth be told, we're still learning how to use this. If you have barista experience, I'm sure this machine would exceed your expectations with its features and performance, but if you're new to pulling espresso, be prepared to invest a significant amount of time and effort into learning the process. Buy a bag of cheaper beans in the beginning to get the hang of how to use the machine well and try out the settings to find out what suits your personal tastes. All in all we're incredibly pleased with this machine. We probably never would have invested in a high quality espresso maker before we received this, but now we can't imagine being without one. Absolutely well worth it and a solid investment for any coffee lover.

Overall an excellent product from Kitchen-Maid. The grinding performance was phenomenal in this espresso machine. The brewing quality options are amazing. You can honestly depend on this product to perform at its highest rate. It's easy clean up and the value of this I personally would have to say it's worth every cent they're asking for it. They provide a recipe book, instructions, and a QR code for more info to register the product.

This is honestly the closest to the best version. It puts out a good hot temperature for steaming and frothing milk, more so than other brands, I've tried before. It has a very sleek and classy look to it. I've only had it for a month and already made enough coffees to suffice its purchase.

Rekindled my love for coffee

I consider myself a casual coffee drinker. I usually drink it for an emergency pick-me-up or socially. The latter was normally done on a kettle style machine or a simple, manual coffee maker; while emergencies were handled at a coffee shop or via k-cup. That all changed with this machine. Making a high quality cup of espresso is typically a rather involved process, and while there is still the expected step-by-step routine with this Kitchenaid, it is so efficiently designed that you hardly need an instruction manual to use it. Based on efficiency, versatility, design and the ability to crank out an excellent espresso in no time, this machine gets a shining 5 star review from me. I can't wait to show off my skills at my next get together!

Exceptional Quality Espresso Machine

I received the Semi Automatic Espresso Machine compliments of Kitchen Aid & Influenster in exchange for my honest opinion. I was so excited receiving this product several days ago that I immediately went to Costco to purchase a coffee bean and a gallon of milk. Kitchen Aid is a very well known brand and is known for its high quality products as a matter of fact our household owns a mixer, a blender and a food processor under the Kitchen Aid brand. The Semi Automatic Espresso Machine is like your home Barista. With this product you are able to make espresso drinks such as latte, cappuccino. affogato. It took us several trial and error's to get familiarized with the Espresso machine. The instructions are clear however I wished the accessories has labels to identify each item so you can relate when reading the instructions. The grinder works great however when making latte the milk is not frothy enough and it's so loud and noisy. Sometimes the buttons when pressed does not respond immediately. The quality of the coffee were excellent. It was nicely brewed you can taste real coffee flavor. The silver color is very nice matching the accessories. The build is great. Overall machine performance is great. I hope to make as many different types of coffee combinations and wow guests at home. It's also easy to clean the accessories. Excellent value for the price. Think of it as great savings especially if you go to Starbucks and purchase coffee costs you $6 each time now you can make your own at the same or if not a much better quality. I would definitely recommend to friends and family members.

We are a coffee lover family and I personally drink at least two cups a day. My bf drinks four cups. I have used different types of espresso machines at work and at home and I absolutely love this one. First of all, it was packed really well. Everything was so organized and nicely wrapped. The box was kind of heavy so I had to borrow a cart to bring it to my apartment. The espresso machine itself is heavy too which is a good sign. It comes with a water filter and it's tank has a 3L capacity. It has four different baskets for pre-ground or freshly grounded coffee. I used almond milk for frothing and it worked great. Make sure you clean the wand afterwards and don't leave it unattended otherwise it won't be easy to remove the milk. The machine is easy to clean and maintain if you follow the instructions. I absolutely love it.

I am in love with my new Kitchen Aid Semi Automatic Espresso Machine with Burr Grinder. Aside from the quality of the machine, the way it grinds the coffee and makes the espresso is impressing. The espresso comes out tasting great and strong with the frother as a plus. It is definitely worth its price and I would be gifting this to my espresso loving loved ones in the future. One small complaint that I do have although I won't remove a star is that the instructions could be better explained and it was a bit frustrating to figure out how to use. I contacted Kitchen Aid twice and they were not any help. I had to search for a video on YouTube to learn how to use this machine, but aside from that, I highly recommend .

This is my first espresso machine, previously I was using a nespresso machine and this is so much better. The flavor is so so much better thanks to the freshly ground beans from the burr machine. I will never need to go to a coffee shop again. I was intimidated at first knowing nothing about espresso makers but this is so user friendly. The machine does all of the hard work for you yet you still can customize the drink just how you want. My advise would be to set it up and test it out on a day where you aren't needing to use it for your caffeine fix. Follow the instructions and you will be golden but I did it on a morning before any caffeine and it would have been much faster if I had a clear mind!

No need for multiple appliances to make a great espresso drink at home. Leave it to Kitchenaid to make an amazing semi-automatic espresso machine that also includes a burr grinder. The grinder is easy to use and grinds coffee beans quickly and efficiently. You can easily make 1-2 espresso shots with this machine, whichever your heart desires. The milk steamer perfectly steams your milk. The entire process takes just a few minutes and is a very simple cleanup. It also comes with a recipe book of different drinks you can make. Overall, it is well worth the cost. Kitchenaid has me making lattes so good in the comfort of my own home, there's no need to waste money on overpriced coffee shops anymore!

Great Semi Automatic Espresso Machine

a month ago

I am a coffee addict and own a older super automatic espresso machine. My machine compared to this kitchenaid semi automatic was very easy to use once you dial in your settings. It took me a few tries to pull the perfect shot. I was unable to pull a shot with the double wall basket. Still trying to figure out why I couldn't but with a single wall basket I was able to find the perfect settings for my medium roast illy coffee. The machine itself is very quiet and heats up fast. Beautiful stainless steel design and modern look. The burr grinder works well and you're able to dial in your exact grind level. I like how it is an all one machine and you do not need a separate grinder. You can remove the bean hopper if you need to and it has a good air tight seal. Love the designated space near the drip tray that stores all the baskets and cleaning tools. The drip tray itself is easy to clean. The tamper and portafilter are heavy and great quality. I love that the portafilter is flat so you can tamp on any surface and not the edge of the counter. The top of the machine heats up well to warm up your mug. The steamer heats up fast. It froths my almond milk well and dispenses hot water for my americanos. One complaint I have is the water tank has an opening that I had to tape off to prevent dust from entering the tank. I think overall this is a great machine. Makes great lattes and americanos. I prefer super automatics vs a semi based on my lifestyle but it is a great machine for the weekend when I am not in a rush. Semi automatics have a learning curve but kitchenaid provides all the tools and a detailed user manuals.

What coffee dreams are made of

The Kitchen Aid Semi Automatic Espresso Machine with Burr Grinder is what coffee dreams are made of! First off, when I got this machine, I had never made espresso before and knew absolutely NOTHING about how to use the machine. I can't even make a pot of regular coffee.

I've always been a coffee pod girl, throw the pod in the machine and press start. That's all I knew how to do. With that being said, I was able to successfully make a delicious cup of espresso on the very first day I had this machine, without even having to watch a YouTube tutorial! That says a lot about the ease of using this machine. Clean up is super easy also. I just rinse out the portafilter and use the paper towel that dried it with to wipe off the machine. The milk steamer is a little more difficult but you just use a lightly soapy cloth and you're good to go! I love how the coffee bean grinder is built-in and you don't have to guess how much to grind. The machine adjusts the amount for you! Another great feature is the fact that you can adjust the temp of your espresso. If I'm in the mood for an iced coffee, I brew on the lowest temp setting. If I'm wanting hot espresso, I brew at the highest temp. You can also use the milk steamer to heat your coffee cup before you brew to get an even hotter cup of espresso! All in all, I think this espresso machine is great! Very easy to use and clean! If you're a regular at your local coffee shop, it will definitely pay for itself!

What a super nice espresso machine! It is such a high quality one. It features a gauge on the front that is helpful with telling you if the pressure is good when it is pouring. The water tank in the back is a nice size. It looks great on my counter, the milk frother works great, I really do love this machine!

I love coffee and been really wanting a espresso machine this is by far the best espresso machine hands down it made the absolute best tasting coffee I've had with having the real bean grinder. I will recommend this espresso machine to all my friends and family and can't wait for them to come over and have coffee with me. I know I'll be sitting down thinking of my mom while I have a cup every morning she loved her coffee! ☺

I received this product for free from Influenster and I have been extremely impressed with its performance. The machine is easy to use and produces consistently delicious espresso with a rich crema. The built-in burr grinder ensures that each shot of espresso is freshly ground for maximum flavor. The machine also has a variety of customizable settings, allowing me to adjust the grind size, brew strength, and temperature to my personal preference. The steam wand is powerful and produces velvety smooth milk foam for lattes and cappuccinos. Overall, I highly recommend the Semi Automatic Espresso Machine with Burr Grinder to any coffee lover looking for a high-quality, reliable espresso machine. It has exceeded my expectations and has become a staple in my morning routine.

I received this espresso maker in exchange for my honest review of the product. The KitchenAid semi-automatic espresso machine makes a great shot of espresso and looks great doing it. The machine comes with single and double wall baskets in single and double shot sizes so that you can use either pre or freshly ground coffee with it. Should you choose freshly ground the attached burr grinder allows you to adjust the grind level and the amount dispensed for one or two shots. Once your grinds are dispensed into the portafilter (done automatically by the attached grinder) the included commercial grade tamper makes it easy to compress them for the perfect shot. When you're ready to pull your shot just select from three temperature settings and set the number of shots and it'll do the rest. The pressure gauge shows the level of extraction with a helpful "espresso" range to help you determine if your shot might of been over or under extracted. If you need more help with that the quick start guide the machine comes with includes details on what to look for and what to adjust in each case. Once you've mastered making your favorite espresso a set of recipes to try out are also included with the machine. Overall I found this easy to use due to the clear directions included and am impressed by the different options for customizability. Even the slightly under extracted shots I produced had a strong flavor.

Read the directions very carefully, once we finally figured it out, it is by far my most favorite item in my kitchen. We got some Starbucks espresso beans and house blend to test it out and it is so amazing. Looks great in our kitchen also!! It took us a few times to get it right. And the self cleaning mode you have to let it rinse out 60 ounces before it is finished.

I became a huge fan of espresso recently due to my Italian honeymoon. My favorite part of the trip was waking up to an espresso! Since getting my Kitchenaid espresso machine, I have been living the life, making perfect espressos in my own home! I honestly can't believe I ever lived without my beloved espresso machine. This machine grinds your beans and everything! It is so easy to use and honestly makes my counter look fancy! I can't wait to offer guests espresso when they come over. I was so excited when the Semi Automatic Espresso Machine with Burr Grinder from KitchenAid showed up. A big thank you to KitchenAid and Influenster for sending this item in exchange for my honest review. I was a little nervous wondering if I would be able to figure out how to work everything but after looking at the online 'getting started' instructions I knew this was going to be good. I followed the instructions, filling the container with fresh coffee beans and set the various selections (how fine to ground the beans and how much to grind) and then actually ground the beans...it smelled so good. I then went on to use the freshly ground beans in my first latte. The machine worked great. The milk warmer took me a moment to get the right angle but was so cool. The first sip was pure success. I have made many drinks at this point and now using the espresso machine is like second nature. I love having it and knowing I can have an awesome tasting, easy to make espresso drink any time instead of having to go out and get one. This KitchenAid Espresso Machine has become one of my favorite things to use every day.

My past experience with making coffee at home were the classic drip coffee makers, pour over, cups, and most recently the Nespresso. This thing felt like a Rolls Royce when I was unboxing

it. I think the stainless steel finish is stunning. Now the most important thing a consumer needs to know about this machine is "With great power comes great responsibility" this machine puts making the drink of your dreams in YOUR hands. With that being said, you need to thoroughly read and follow the instructions for first use, espresso how to's, and also maintenance and cleaning your new machine. For first time users getting a nice espresso pull may take practice, however, there is plenty of guidance included in the literature to help you get there quickly. For those who appreciate the art of espresso over the convenience of a press and play kcup, the extra effort will be worth it. The smell of freshly ground beans in the morning, the endless ways you can personalize your drink, the satisfaction of learning a new skill... I would definitely recommend this machine to a friend.

I am a caffeine addict so I couldn't wait to set up my machine!! I am not going to lie it did take a little time to set it up but it was well worth the effort The temperature of the espresso was perfect and I loved all the different options it provides for brewing. The burr grinder was such a nice added bonus as I haven't seen many machines with this option. I also love the built in milk steamer. The quality and taste of the espresso is out of this world. I would recommend reading the instructions for the set up and for making your espresso the first few times. Good quality product that I will be using on a daily basis.

This is a product I received for free from @Influenster and @KitchenAid in exchange for my honest review. KitchenAid has long been hailed as a reliable household brand and this espresso machine is no different. It makes a delicious and smooth espresso in just a few minutes. It's very easy to use, once you start. It came with all the necessary equipment and is compact enough that it doesn't take up a ton of space. The machine itself is well made, and probably doesn't need to be cleaned after every use, but I do that due to my own personal preference. It looks nice in my kitchen and is a light stainless steel that blends well with my other appliances.

I'll admit, I'm still figuring out recipes and how to set the right settings - for now I am doing basic, but man, I've NEVER had coffee this good. My heart flutters at the thought of money saved by no more starbucks AND the simple fact that this item came with a recipe book. A book that I will be utilizing for certain moods and days. Run, don't walk - to get this item! I can honestly say this item has made my life easier. It will take time for me to learn, but, I'm looking forward to it! This is ABSOLUTELY worth the purchase if you're looking into something of the sort. From temperature settings to recipes and milk brother, this is exquisite.

Finally, an espresso machine I can use. We replaced two separate appliances with this one machine; I never learned to use the other two machines. It is now day two with this Kitchen Aid espresso machine and I have personally made 4 cappuccinos! The start up instructions are not clear so you will have to have some espresso machine knowledge. It is wonderful to have a grinder and espresso maker in one. It comes with everything you will need; 4 espresso baskets, frothing cup and tamper AND storage for the baskets. The stainless steel is sleek and beautiful. The machine has Smart Dosing Technology which measures and grinds the perfect amount of beans for the best results every time. The portafilter has a flat base, which makes it an easier stable tamping. I especially appreciate the espresso pressure gage so you know when you're in that espresso sweet spot. The machine has wheels! This will make it super easy for me when cleaning under and around the machine. Buy it! You'll be happy you did!
